Adult dating online dating has grown tremendously in popularity over the past few years. Local dating sites are struggling to find new ways to attract members while bigger sites struggle to stay afloat and stay profitable. The good news for local dating singles is that the Internet has created an entire new market that you can target to find the love of your life. Here are a few reasons why you should consider local hookups:

Free Local Dating Sites: There are many free local hookups sites on the Internet today. Some are dating apps and others are social networking apps like Facebook and MySpace. I have personally dabbled with both apps and they are actually quite decent when it comes to the features and functionality. I would however urge caution if using them as your main source of local dating.

Free Local Hookups Sites: My personal favorite is the free local hookups sites. A quick search on Google will turn up quite a few options. The reason I like them so much is that they are FREE. You also get to access tons of free information, which in this case can be pretty valuable when it comes to looking for sex hook ups.

Bigger Sites: Unfortunately, there are also some big name busting local sex hookups sites out there. You really do have to take caution when going through them. Do your research, and make sure they are reputable. There are certainly some fly by night operators out there, so be cautious. On the flip side, these sites often have a ton of high quality profiles which can be a huge bonus. They are also a great way to meet other local singles which is always a plus.

Dating Apps: As with the big site above, many of the major dating apps offer local hookups as well. Many of them are FREE. Okcupid is one such dating app which you may want to check out. It's free to sign up, but the features they provide is pretty impressive. You can find dates from across the country, and they've even provided a special feature where you can easily see the likes and dislikes of people you are interested in.

Chat Rooms: OKCupid offers a chat room for dating which is a HUGE draw. In my opinion, the best part is the ability to talk to local singles while keeping your personal information protected. You can choose whether or not you want to give out any of your details, and it's private within a very small community. There are various types of chat rooms to choose from, including voice and video. Many of these chat rooms are FREE to use, and the real draw of the site is the ability to get laid with local hookups.

Paid Features: Many of these paid sites offer FREE features as well. Like the local hookups site above, many of these paid dating sites allow for swiping, and uploading of pictures. Swiping makes it very easy to keep track of everyone you are searching for. Uploading pictures allows others to see what you look like, which can really help in getting a great partner.
